Survey Report on Gender Equity

Surya Sen Mahavidyalaya's Women's Cell in collaboration with Internal Complaint Committee held an online gender equality students survey on March 2, 2021. The goal of the survey is to make our students feel as though their ideas matter and that they will be treated equally to any other respondent without bias. People are typically hesitant to inquire about sexuality and gender in face-to-face surveys, and in this lockdown circumstance, when we are unable to congregate for any physical interaction, the Women's Cell of our College decided that completing the survey through web-forms would be the best option. And this initiative fulfilled both objectives. A total of 423 students from Surya Sen Mahavidyalaya took part in the survey, including students from all three disciplines – science, arts, and commerce.

On March 10, 2021, as part of the Women's Day Program, we will analyse their comments and interact with them on a virtual platform. And we determined that once life returns to normal, we would like to have a physical interaction with the survey report, and that we would progressively move toward more serious observations and realisations by our students, as well as meaningful conversations with them about gender issues.
